Pitcairn and Jensen's New World Veterinary Repertory has been updated! After months of careful research, utilizing the search function in the SHS software, every single remedy has been traced to its source. A practitioner can now select remedies specifically based on their favorite authors, Materia medica, or repertories. The authors are proud to offer this new tool to the homeopathic community, whether it is used to work with the human animal (especially young children or those without speech) or the four-legged patient.

The New World Veterinary Repertory III* emphasizes concomitants, and ameliorations and aggravations of symptoms, which Pitcairn and Jensen have found to be the most reliable guide to the curative remedy in veterinary patients. The repertory was constructed on the backbone of Boenninghausen's Characteristics Materia Medica and his Repertory (as created by C.M. Boger, with rubrics added from Kent, Jahr, and Boger's Synoptic Key).
